

■ SOUNDS OF THE SIX-TIES: Redman and the famous 250

Redman's reunion with Honda Six

SIX-times world champion Jim Redman will ride Honda's legendary six-cylinder 250 from the mid-'60s at this year's Daytona classic festival.

The pair are being brought together by Rob Iannucci of Team Obsolete, who restored and owns the bike. Iannucci ran the bike at Daytona last year, but technical problems meant it lasted only half a lap.

Redman, from Zimbabwe, was one of the original riders of the Honda Six.

"I think fans will love to see the two re-united," said Iannucci.

The classic races at Daytona are on March 6-7 with the Daytona 200 on March 12.
